DETAILED ACTIONSpecification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC (See 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5) and MPEP 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text are permitted to be submitted on compact discs.) or
REFERENCE TO A "MICROFICHE APPENDIX" (See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.)
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 3744

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. "T[t]he control device has a sensing device located remotely from the valve, and the adjustment drive is arranged on the sensing device" has not been disclosed in the specification. The specification discloses the adjustment drive is arranged on the setting device.

3. The following rejections are based on the best understanding of the claimed limitations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-12 and 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamagishi (JP 2001349581) in view of Danfoss (EP 923,013 and NPL of IDS 1449 filed 1/30/2004).

In regard to claims 1,8 and 9, Yamagishi discloses condensation prevention system. The system comprises heat exchanger P, condensation detection sensor S and controller. The controller receives the signal from the detection sensor and stops supply of the coolant to the heat exchanger P. Yamagishi discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Yamagishi does not disclose valve control of the coolant. Danfoss discloses valve mechanism in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of controlling coolant. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the apparatus of Yamagishi with a valve mechanism in view of Danfoss so as to control the coolant.

In regard to claims 2-7, 10-12 and 15-17, Danfoss discloses different sensor with valve control device as claimed.

6. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over D64646 (NPL of IDS filed 1/30/2004) in view of Danfoss (EP 923,013 and NPL of IDS 1449 filed 1/30/2004).

D64646 discloses cooling and heating ceiling system in combination with dew-point sensor. The system comprises heat exchangers, dew-point sensor and valve with continuous control. There are four methods for preventing dew formation on the cooling ceiling: passive dew-point monitoring, "central" active dew-point monitoring with passive room dew-point monitoring, active room dew-point monitoring and "central" active dew-point monitoring with active room dew-point monitoring. D64646 discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, D64646 does not disclose the detail of valve mechanism. Danfoss discloses valve mechanism in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of controlling coolant. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the apparatus of D64646 with a valve mechanism in view of Danfoss so as to control the coolant. Danfoss disclose different sensor with valve control device as claimed, e.g.; integrated sensor, remote sensor, motor/gear arrangement, position sensor and tappet.
